Key Features of The Red Rose Friendly Society Ltd Child Trust Fund Account

This document explains the key features of the Child Trust Fund Account. Please read it carefully, and keep it in a safe place. You may want to refer to it in the future.

Its aims

- To assist parents in teaching their children about savings and investments and ensure that, when the child reaches the age of 18 years he/she has a lump sum investment available for entry to adult life.
- To provide a tax-efficient way to invest to achieve this lump sum through the government's Child Trust Fund Scheme. (CTF).

Your commitment

- To use the voucher sent to you by the government to open a Child's Trust Fund account you should contact Red Rose Friendly Society as early as possible to ensure that your child's voucher starts to earn money immediately.
- You, or someone else who has parental responsibility for your child, must agree to become the "Registered Contact". The Registered Contact will be the person who makes all of the decision about the account until the child reaches the age of 16. At this age the child can make his/her own decision but the account cannot be closed (except for special reasons) until the child reaches the age of 18 years.
- You, or any other person such as a relative or friend, can make additional payments into the account and this would help the fund to increase.

Risks

- The value of the child trust fund is not guaranteed and can move up or down during the period as we have no control over the stock market performance.
- At 18 the child could get back less than had been paid in
- The child cannot withdraw the money until he/she reaches the age of 18
- The tax rules which at present apply to the child trust fund account and its investments could change depending on government legislation.
